

Refund Policy

All qualified courses purchased on rajalakshmi eduverse can be reimbursed within 7 days because we want you to be happy.

If you are not satisfied with a course for any reason, you can ask for a refund as long as your request complies with our refund policy's requirements.

Certain purchases might only be eligible for credit returns, and there might be restrictions in place. Please refer to the material below for further details about our refund policy.

Our 7 Day guidelines:

We want students to learn without risk, which is why we have a 7-day return policy. However, we also must safeguard our instructors from fraud and give them a fair payment schedule, so we won't handle refund claims that are made after the refund window has closed.

Extra Justifications for Refund Denials:

We maintain the right, in our sole discretion, to restrict or reject refund requests in situations where we suspect refund misuse, which may involve any of the following:

Before the refund request was made, a student downloaded or completed a sizable chunk of the course.

A student has asked for several refunds for the same course.

A student has claimed excessive returns.

Refunds are not available to users who violate our terms and have their account banned or course access disabled. After seven days, we do not offer refunds for any subscription services.

The extent allowed by applicable legislation will be the enforcement of these refund limits.

What happens if there is a refund?

Before you choose to give up, we would be happy to hear about your problem and offer our assistance in solving it. Nevertheless, if you would like a refund, send an email to adex91.eduverse@rajalakshmi.edu.in from your registered email address and the specifics of the course you would like a refund for. The concerned staff will contact you as soon as you send the email.

As an alternative, you can speak with our mentoring staff by chat or email.
